but the principal line was continued in ----- Fowke, esq. of Wyrley Parva, lord of the manor of Brewood, who had issue ----- Fowke, M. D. (well known in the learned world as a person of merit; he practised some time as a physician, but when his estates fell to him he gave all his prescriptions gratis; at length he was chosen president of the college of physicians in London); and three daughters, of which the eldest was wife of ----- Hussey, of London, who had by her Phineas , that married ----- daughter of William Jesson, of Lichfield, gent. and sister of William Jesson, counsellor in the law; which Phineas became, in right of his mother, one of the coheirs to the learned ----- Fowke, M. D. He had issue Phineas Hussey of Little Wyrley, esq. and a daughter Isabella, both unmarried; also three other sons, Fowke, surgeon and apothecary; Joseph; and Richard, a linen-draper in Wolverhampton, who, by ----- daughter of Becket, hath one son and one daughter. The second sister of the physician was married to John Holland, gent. father, by her, of John Holland, of Shrewsbury, M.D. The youngest sister was wife of Robert Huntbach, of Wolverhampton, gent. whose daughter, wife of ----- Helliere, esq. had issue an only son, Sir Samuel Hellier, of Woodhouse, near Womburn in Staffordshire, knight, late high-sheriff for the county of Worcester, yet unmarried. The present Phineas Hussey, esq. is lord of a third part of Norton, Little Worley, in Norton, Brown Hills, lands in Landy-wood, near Cannock; Brewood hall, and its appurtenances, he sold in 1766, to ----- Plymley, gent. The family, for two or three hundred years, had Ogley Hay, one-third of which came to Fowke Hussey, and either is at present in Phineas Hussey, esq. or in Richard Gildart, esq. lord of the manor of Norton under Cannock, by purchase. We also add, that John Holland lived at Brewood hall, was a man of abilities, and had another son Fowke, linen draper in Salop. Arms of Fowke de Brewood; Vert, a fleur de liz, Argent; of Gunstone, the same, with a crescent for difference. [Henry Sanders Miscellaneous antiquities ... p173-4]
